ImageScan's Check 21 Technology Utilized by Salesian Missions

LANHAM, Maryland, February 28, 2011 – ImageScan Inc., a U.S.-based, leading software solutions provider for accounts receivables management and transactional content unification, today announced that its client, Salesian Missions, has successfully deployed ImageScan's Check 21 technology on the RemitTrac® system for donations processing. By using Check 21 technology, the client aims to expedite deposits through the use of digital versions of the original checks from donors.

Salesian Missions, a non-profit organization dedicated to supporting disadvantaged youth across the globe, implemented Check 21 technology to process high volumes of donations at its processing center in New Rochelle, New York. With Check 21, Salesian Missions benefits from faster deposits, lower deposit fees and reduction in transport time as well as operational expenditures.

“Leveraging Check 21 technology from ImageScan helps us apply donations to our missions more quickly, with higher, more reliable security and lower bank fees,” said Stephen Eross, Operations Manager of Salesian Missions.
